Ingvar Sodal was born in Norway and was raised in a rural farming community near Trondheim, 350 miles north of Oslo. He started dancing in his teens and has been involved with Scandinavian folk dancing ever since. In his early 20s, he became a Certified Folk Dance Teacher in Norway and a member of the National Board of Folk Dancing. As a certified instructor, Ingvar taught folk dancing at all levels in Norway.

In 1962, Ingvar moved to Colorado to study at the University of Colorado in Boulder and soon became an active instructor in Scandinavian folk dancing for the Boulder International Folk Dancers. He was the founder and leader of a performing group, the Boulder Scandinavian Dancers. Ingvar has taught at many camps and workshops throughout the United States and has brought many Norwegian dance and music groups to perform at events in the U.S.

Professionally, Ingvar is a bioengineer. He was a director of the Bioengineering Group at the University of Colorado Medical Center involved in medical research, spent four years on the faculty of Ohio State University, and had his own company in Boulder making scientific instruments. He has published widely - both folkdance and scientific articles.

Ingvar is a Colorado Mountain Club (CMC) legend. In the 1960's he gave a huge boost to popularizing cross country skiing in Colorado by importing ski touring equipment from Norway, by starting the CMC cross country ski school, and by operating Norsk Ltd. selling cross country ski equipment. He helped to lay out and build many beautiful ski trails and taught many people to cross country ski. He spearheaded the building of the new CMC Arestua or Guinn Mountain Hut. Many skiers and racers can thank Ingvar for his enthusiastic push in promoting a new type of winter pleasure.

As many of us know, Ingvar Sodal’s role in Boulder’s vibrant dance community has been priceless. He was one of the original members of the Village Arts Coalition, an umbrella organization, established in 1989 that now supports 33 dance groups providing insurance and creating dance space. Ingvar initiated the creation of an investor group to purchase the Pearl Street Studio, which has become a permanent home for many local dance groups. After an exhausting and costly search for larger space for the dance community, Ingvar, and a small group of dancers, established the Avalon; finally the Boulder dance community can enjoy its own large ballroom with a first class dance floor.

In his leadership on the VAC Board for many years, the dance community’s gratitude to Ingvar is immeasurable. His vision and dedicated involvement in the trials of establishing two facilities for dancing in Boulder have been a shining and remarkable light for all involved. He is the affirmation that commitment and endless volunteer work can be a satisfying challenge that subsequently creates warm social bonds – all starting with the love of dancing and music. Although he has retired from the VAC Board, Ingvar is still a glowing example to all. By devoting unaccountable hours to the welfare of the dance community, it is time for us to express our gratitude and say, “There is only one Ingvar. Thank you, Ingvar.”
